

Educational Guidance on Third-Level Options for EGF Clients

The Downtown Centre Guidance Service is being supported by the European Globalisation Fund (EGF) to offer educational guidance to former Dell and ancillary company workers who are interested in progressing to third-level education. This includes programmes which are accredited at Level 6 and above on the National Framework of Qualifications.

What can educational guidance offer you?

- A “safe” and confidential space to express and identify your learning goals
- Help to explore third-level learning options and to make informed choices
- Practical and accurate information on third-level application procedures and programmes
- Resource material – brochures, useful websites, on-line self-assessment packages
- Signposting or direct referral to another resource or service where appropriate
- Template for a personal action plan for learning goals

The service is voluntary, confidential and free of charge.
